

The Almond Heist

Copyright © 2007 Kathy Mann and Helen Martin

ISBN 978-1-4243-4038-5

All rights reserved. No part of this book may be reproduced or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic or mechanical, including photocopying, recording, or by any information storage and retrieval system, without permission in writing from the copyright owners.

The Almond Heist

By Kathy Mann

Illustrated By Helen Martin

It was summertime in San Jose and Jane was getting ready to be born.

Over the mountain in Corralitos, her Gramma and Papa were waiting anxiously for her arrival.

Sometimes babies take longer to be born than Grammas, Papas, Mommies and Daddies like.

They take their own sweet time..

While Gramma was waiting for Jane, she decided to bake some Biscotti.

First, she toasted two cups of almonds; then she set them aside on the kitchen counter to cool.

That's when the phone rang announcing Jane's arrival. Gramma and Papa dashed out the door and drove as fast as they could over the mountain to San Jose where they met Jane for the first time.

They oohed and aahed and celebrated and returned home late that evening,
the almonds and Biscotti almost forgotten.

